President's Report

Welcome to the Lotus Outreach Australia (LOA) 2023 Annual Report - and thank you for taking the time to learn more about our small but effective organisation.

December 2023 brings us to the end of our most recent three year MoU with our in country NGO partner, CWCC. LOA funds the GATE Program in Phnom Penh Cambodia, which saw the completion of high school for 100 scholarship girls. We had an outstanding final year pass rate of 71%, on par with the national pass rate, and it will be exciting to watch what happens to these girls and their promising futures.

The end of an MoU is always a time for reflection and growth, and so in preparing for a new three year MoU starting January 2024 we have made a few changes to the GATE PP program, choosing to stagger the intake of scholarship girls over the next three years, looking ahead to how we can best support them as they graduate.

We are continuing to fund additional tuition out of school, which has proven essential to ensuring the girls are receiving the highest quality of education, and we are enlisting our in-country partners to work closely with the schools to advocate for more access to this tuition.

I would like to take this opportunity to sincerely thank our donors and sponsors, who have shown continued extraordinary generosity over the years. It is because of you that we are able to look forward and plan the next three years with confidence in our ability to see a new intake of girls through to the end of their schooling. The Lotus Outreach Australia board and I don't take this responsibility lightly, and your continued backing allows us to make such a commitment.

It is important to remember that we are influencing the lives of real, individual girls, who have their own hopes and dreams. It is such a privilege to know that the work we are doing is supporting them to fulfil their own potential, so when we receive news of their achievements after school, we are reminded of why our programs exist. I was thrilled to hear that 13 of the GATE PP graduates from 2022 are now engaged in university or tertiary education - evidence of how empowered they have become in their own lives. Even more impressive when you think that these scholarship recipients are the first in their families to complete a high school education, and to think of tertiary or vocational training.

Looking forward to 2024, I am excited for some new campaigns in Australia, and the continued success for girls in Cambodia.

An overview of LOA

Lotus Outreach Australia is a Not-For-Profit organisation. Our mission is to ensure the education, health, and safety of the most marginalised and exploited girls in Cambodia. Guided by the UN's Millennium Development Goals regarding extreme poverty, universal education, gender equality and empowerment of women, we advocate for the human rights of these women and children by providing educational access and opportunities.

We work from the basis that prevention is better than cure. In partnership with respected Cambodian Government registered NGOs, we identify girls at risk of the worst forms of child labour and trafficking.

Our intervention provides educational opportunities through our Girls' Access to Education (GATE) scholarships program in Phnom Penh.

GATE is a highly successful program, seeing girls from the very poorest families access and succeed at high school before going onto vocational training or to university, or finding meaningful employment. Our projects focus on sustainable change for families and communities through the education of their girls. By supporting families in dire poverty to become self-sufficient, we create the possibility of an alternative future for these girls and change the potential opportunities for whole communities and future generations.

GATE PP provides

- Scholarships, uniforms, school supplies, bikes to transport to school as well as healthcare for around 100 at-risk girls.
- Nutritional support for families in dire poverty. This has been shown to lessen the pressure on families to put their girls into child labour in order to feed their families.
- Advocacy, in association with the Cambodian Women's Crisis Centre (CWCC), to inform the community of the dangers of trafficking, the importance of human and child rights, and the immense value of girls' education to their families in terms of gaining employment and future economic opportunities

Lotus Outreach Australia is a successful, effective organisation with strong governance and proven programs.

It is a registered charity with the Australian Charities and Not for Profits Commission (ACNC) and is incorporated as a Registered Charity with NSW Department of Fair Trading since 2004.

It has a fundraising authority with NSW Office of Liquor, Gaming and Racing.

LOA is an affiliate of eight Lotus Outreach organisations globally, originally founded by renowned teacher and film-maker Khyentse Norbu Rinpoche. Our programs are managed in collaboration with local Cambodian NGOs and funded entirely by LOA.

LOA has charity tax concessions with the Australian Tax Office.

Tax deductibility for donors is recognised through our OAGD DGR 1 status conferred by the Department of Foreign Affairs and the Australian Tax office.

Cambodia Report

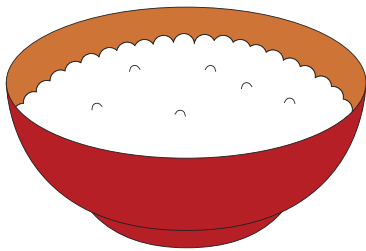

Girls Access to Education Phnom Penh is a small but highly effective program. We award the number of scholarships to the extent we are able to effectively meet the individual needs of our scholarship girls and their families, working together with schools, teachers and our in-country partners to overcome barriers to completing education as they arise.

LOA partners with 4 schools on the outskirts of Phnom Penh. Local Education Working Groups (LEWGs) consisting of school principals, dedicated teachers and local authorities, work together with these schools to monitor girls regularly. 340 home visits were conducted in 2023.

At the start of each year, our in country partner identifies new scholarship students and provides them with a new bicycle to help them get to and from school safely.

The GATE PP program has distributed approximately 23,000kgs of rice in 2023, to the poorest of the scholarship girls' families. 38 families have benefited from the nutrition support program which not only feeds families, but importantly reduces the pressure on girls to drop out of school to find work.

All 100 scholarship recipients received new school uniforms and learning materials at the start of the school year at a ceremony during which our in-country partners provided guidance on the importance of education and the risks of leaving school early in Cambodia.

All 100 students received enough stipend to attend additional tutoring for 4 subjects throughout the year, overcoming one of the biggest barriers to completing their high school education.

A Case Study - Nita*

Nita is 17 years old, and completed year 12 this year. She lives with her mother and her younger sister. Nita's mum sells cakes by the roadside to try to support her two daughters to stay in school, but the money she earns isn't enough to even cover school materials, let alone feeding her girls and keeping a roof over their heads. A couple of years ago, Nita's mum approached her own mother for support, and they decided it was best that Nita drop out of school and find a husband, with the hope that the husband's family might be able to support them financially.

But Nita didn't want to drop out of school and get married. She dreamed of becoming a lawyer so that she could help poor and vulnerable families like her own, and she knew that she needed to finish school and get into university to achieve that dream. Nita's luck turned when she heard about the GATE program scholarship through her school. She applied, and during the interview and assessment process, was found to be hard working and studious, despite living in extreme poverty, and so was awarded a scholarship.

Receiving rice support made an immediate difference to Nita and her family, reducing the daily stress of feeding the family. A new bike also meant that Nita could get herself to school, and didn't need to rely on her mother, giving mum more time to sell cakes. Because Nita receives school materials and uniforms from the GATE program, she no longer feels guilty about pursuing her career dreams when her family had asked her to drop out.

Part of the GATE program is providing life skills education to scholarship recipient families, and though this, Nita's mum and grandmother now support her plans to stay in school, as they understand the benefits of education and the risks of early marriage for girls.

*Name changed to protect her identity

Spotlight - CATALYST

The GATE Program supports girls to stay in school, and sees them through to their year 12 graduation, but this is not the end of their journey. LOA is part of an international network of Lotus Outreach organisations that together provide many opportunities for further education for our girls.

One such support is CATALYST, a program run by our in-country partner Lotus Outreach Cambodia, with funding from Lotus Outreach affiliates.

CATALYST started in 2010 in response to the fact that less than 2% of women in Cambodia had any education past high school. The program recruits graduates from the GATE programs across Cambodia and supports them to succeed in tertiary education.

$1800 supports one girl for one year of vocational tuition, food, residence, class fees and a daily allowance.

Fundraising

Thank you to Cloudy Ku and HER Music who generously fundraise for Lotus Outreach Australia at their events. HER music promotes equality in the music scene in Australia and overseas. They have donated $2500 in 2023.

We have been very fortunate to partner with Lotus Outreach International in the 1000 coffee campaign that has brought in over $2600 for the GATE PP program this year.

You can pledge to forego a number of coffees each month to support Girls Access to Education at 1000coffee.org

Lotus Outreach Australia was privileged to attend the teachings and empowerments given by Dzongsar Khyentse Rinpoche in Sydney this November. It was an important opportunity to share the work of LOA with Rinpoche's students.

Generous cash donations brought in more than $6000 over the three day event.

Above and beyond anything else, the support from our amazing regular donors keeps LOA and GATE PP running. When people choose to sponsor a girl, they are enabling LOA to make long term commitments to our GATE program in Cambodia, supporting the sustainability and longevity of the program so that we can see girls through to the end of their schooling with confidence.

Regular donor support funded more than three quarters of our commitments this year.
